CDR Assessment Group, Inc. Launches New Website

CDR Assessment Group, Inc. proudly debuts an updated website to enhance the online presence and outreach to its clients and certified coaches. The website features an in-depth account of the 3-Dimensional Assessment Suite® and its robust applications for executive coaching, leadership development and talent management.

The newly updated website provides various opportunities for continued learning with blogs, articles and publications along with subscription services for coaches' continued education and a Learning Management System. An Event Calendar displays the dates, locations and registration for Coaches' Certification Workshops and related industry events.
